Introduction

The objective of this webpage is to place a platform where I can introduce and express myself on the internet using HTML. The design is inspired from various websites that I found interesting on the internet. It is mainly static websites where it showcases the basics of what a webpage should look like. The elements I used on my website are mostly the basics and fundamental elements needed for a website. For example, tables, headers, forms, and links. I also used medias such as photos, videos, and audio files to make the website more responsive and enjoyable to go through.

Print Screens

Home Page

This is the Home page where I introduce myself. Here we can see the navigation bar that navigates to other pages and the contents of the page. All the icons on every page are links that navigates throughout the website. I've inserted a picture of me beside my name and course I am currently pursuing which is Computer Science at UiTM Teknologi MARA. Below that, I inserted an audio file that plays a song titled Stay With Me by Miki Matsubara. The song is set to controls and autoplay every time the website is reloaded. Other than that, I posted a quote by Hiba Kane that inspired me and wanted to share on my webpage. On the footer, I made a link that takes you to the top of the page.

About Me page

Moving on, this is the About Me page where I explain further about myself. Here we can see another picture of me and some paragraphs that I typed in using the pre element. This is to not bother the indentations I wanted on the page. I also coloured some words in the page using the span and style element. I wanted to explain about myself and how I think other people see me. After the navigation bar, I inserted a picture I obtain from the internet with the title of the page at the center of the picture. This can be seen throughout the website with different titles and pictures.

After that, this is the Biodata page. I made a table that shows my personal details along the years that are relevant now. As you can see, on some of the columns I made it to span a couple of rows as the contents of the column is in the same category as one of the rows. This is made through the rowspan element.

Highlights page

On the Highlights page, I inserted the best videos of my life in 2020 that I can find. On the videos, you can see that it resembles a polaroid. This is by adding border to the videos and adding extra pixels on the border-bottom element. In the middle column are landscape videos and on the left and right are portrait videos that I gather from various platforms such as Tiktok and Instagram stories. In the middle row, there are two videos that are set to autoplay to add life to the webpage. The people in the video are mostly my friends and family. Some of the videos are from my fourth semester at UiTM Segamat before the pandemic started.

Lastly, on the Contact Me page you can see there are three icons of social media platforms. These three icons are links that lead you to my Instagram profile, Twitter profile and my WhatsApp where you can message me directly. This is made possible through the `a` element and `href` element. It also opens in a new tab by using the `target` element. Below that is the form I made that you could fill in and send to my email. Here you will have to insert your name, email, subject you wanted to ask or discuss with me and message you wanted to tell me. You can submit the form and a browser pop-up will appear saying your feedback has been sent. You can also reset the form and all the fields will be cleared.
